

The Pioneer Difference ...

Product characterization... We know our products and their end-use functionality. Pioneer has the most extensive dry-grind ethanol corn product characterization effort in the industry.

Product yield and agronomic performance... Because Pioneer's seed products are performance leaders, growers are more likely to participate in origination programs.

Market footprint... Pioneer products are widely produced, making it easier to source large volumes of grain with consistent quality.

Seed Distribution Traceability... Pioneer's unique seed distribution network facilitates tracking of grain availability and quality control.

Grower relationships... Pioneer's tradition of service and strong grower relationships allows us to efficiently link end-use customer needs with quality-oriented growers.

Research commitment... With the most aggressive end-use product development research engine in the industry, you can be sure that Pioneer is committed to providing seed products growers want to plant, and grain that end users value.
